RESIDENCES & PROJECTS

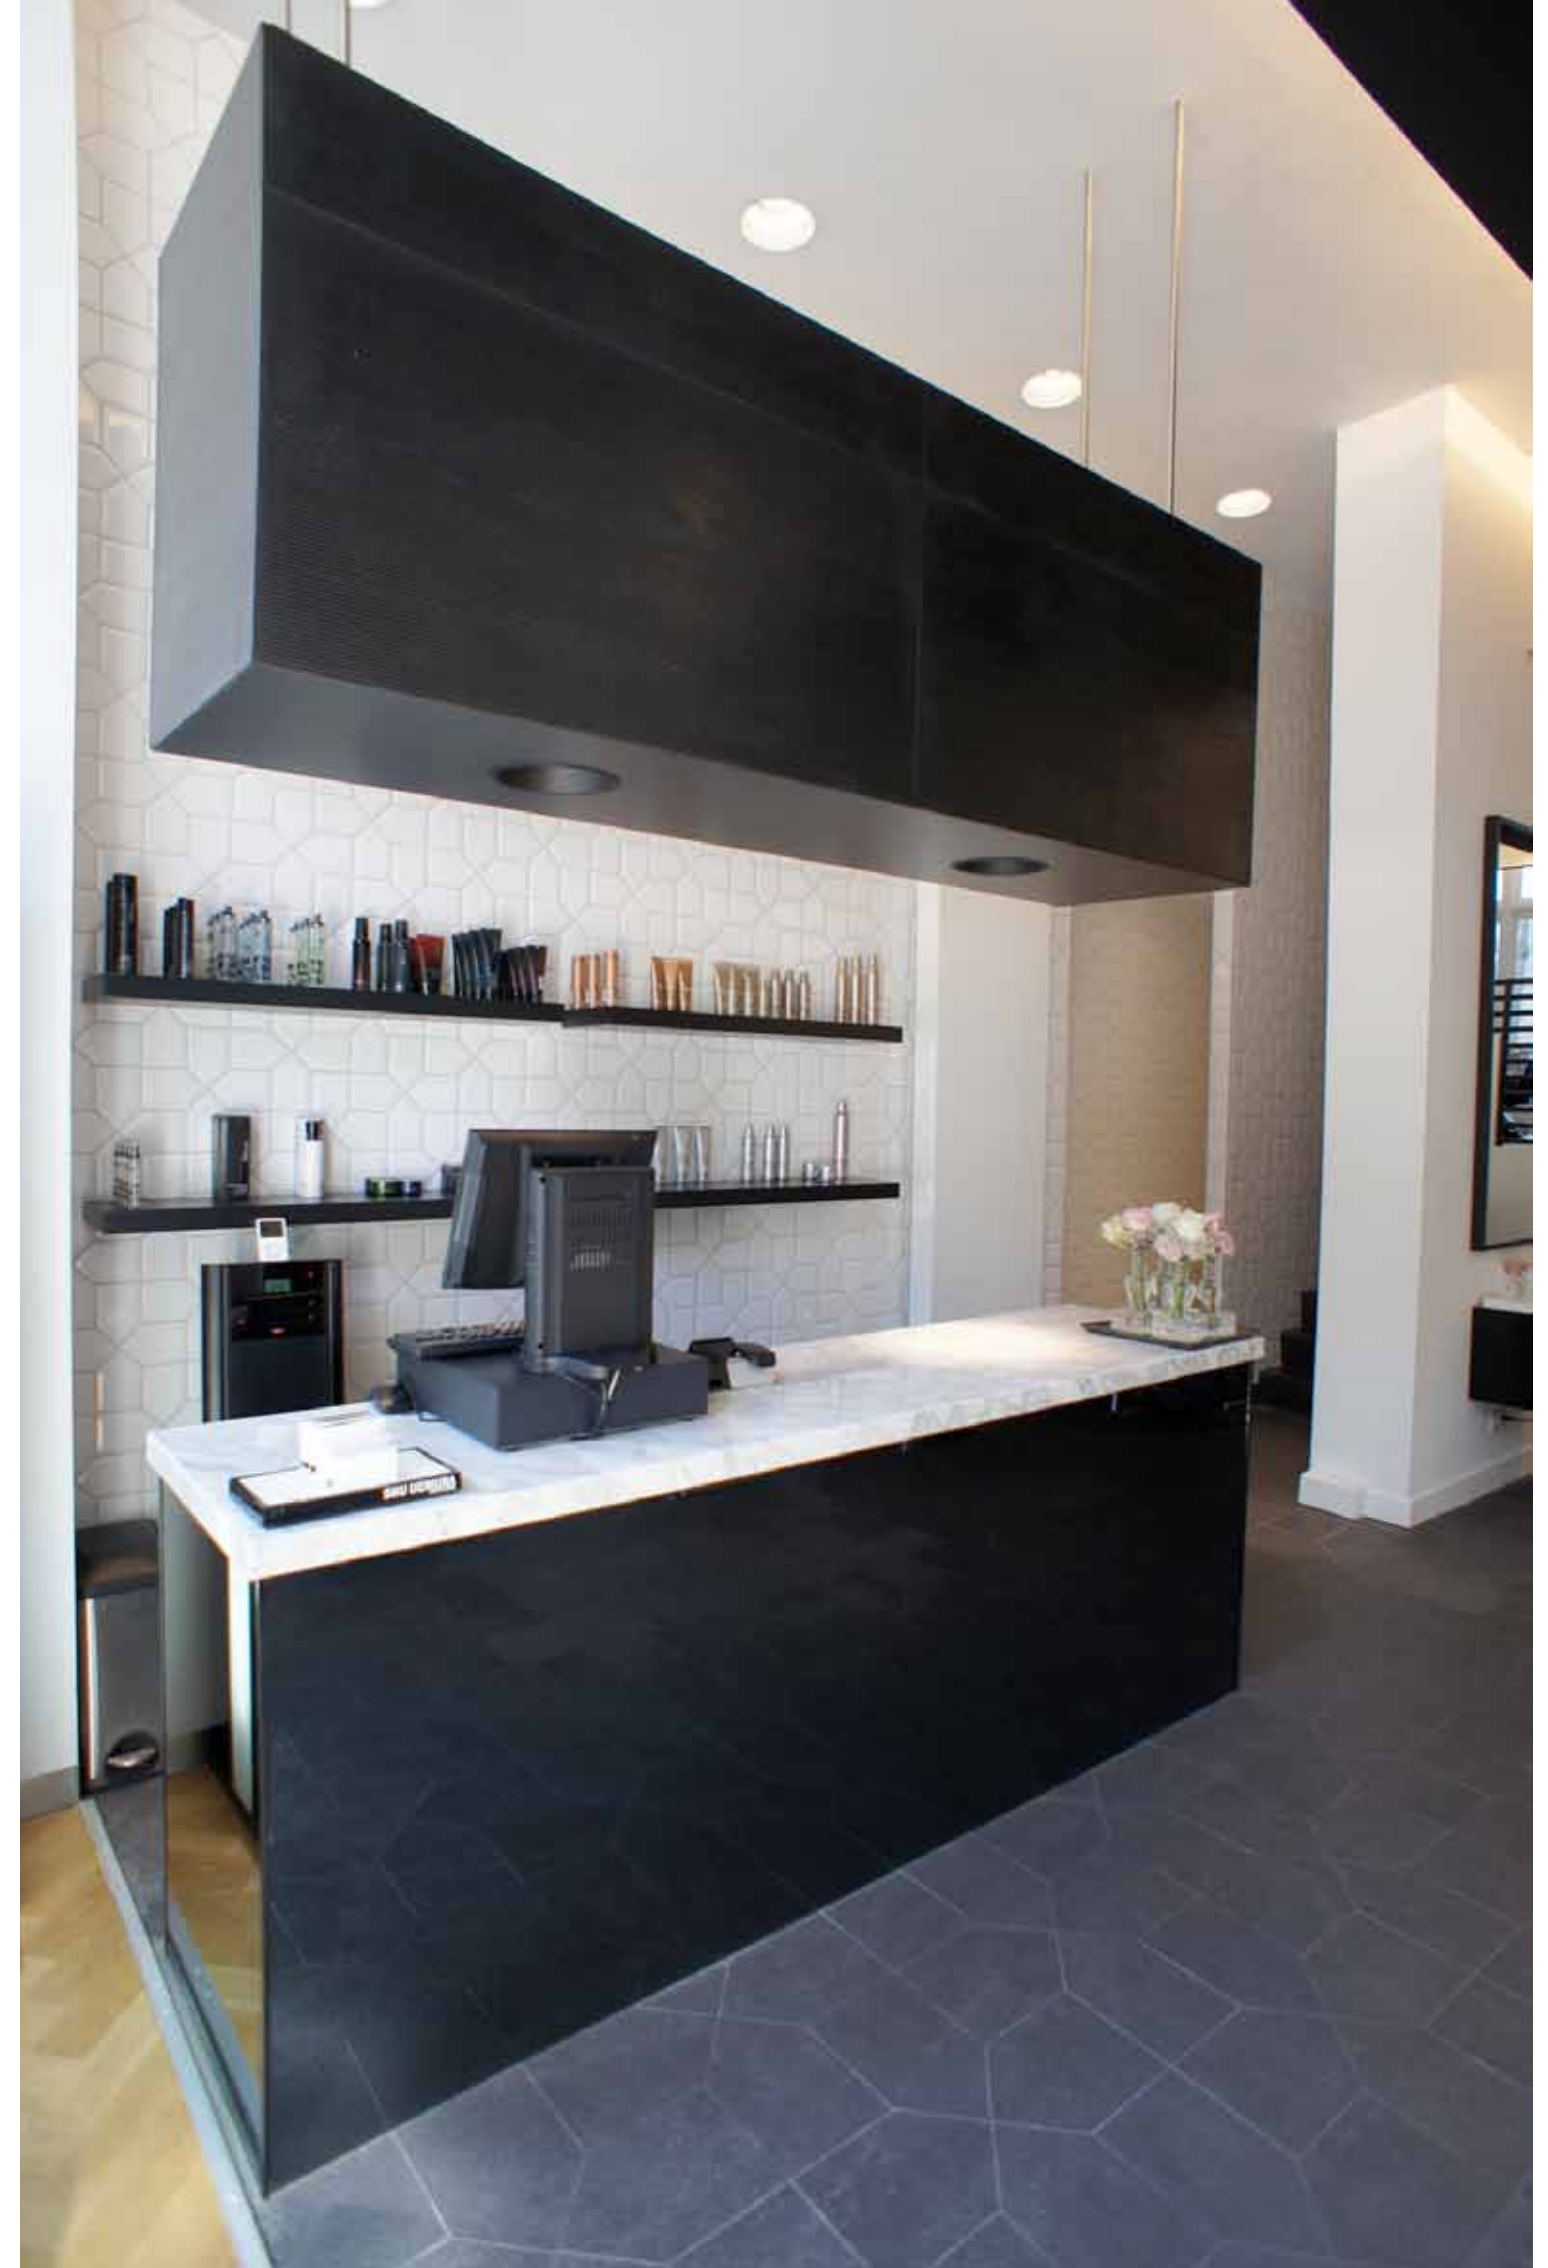

Olga Wintermans worked as a stylist for various, outstanding interior designers around the world. In 1998, she started her own agency and has been designing and decorating stores, restaurants and private residences ever since. She has a passion for nature and with the launch of O Mooves, she finally uses the energy that coincides within nature in her designs, without shifting away from the pristine style she is known for. Her designs and interiors are therefore timeless yet exciting, elegant and chic.

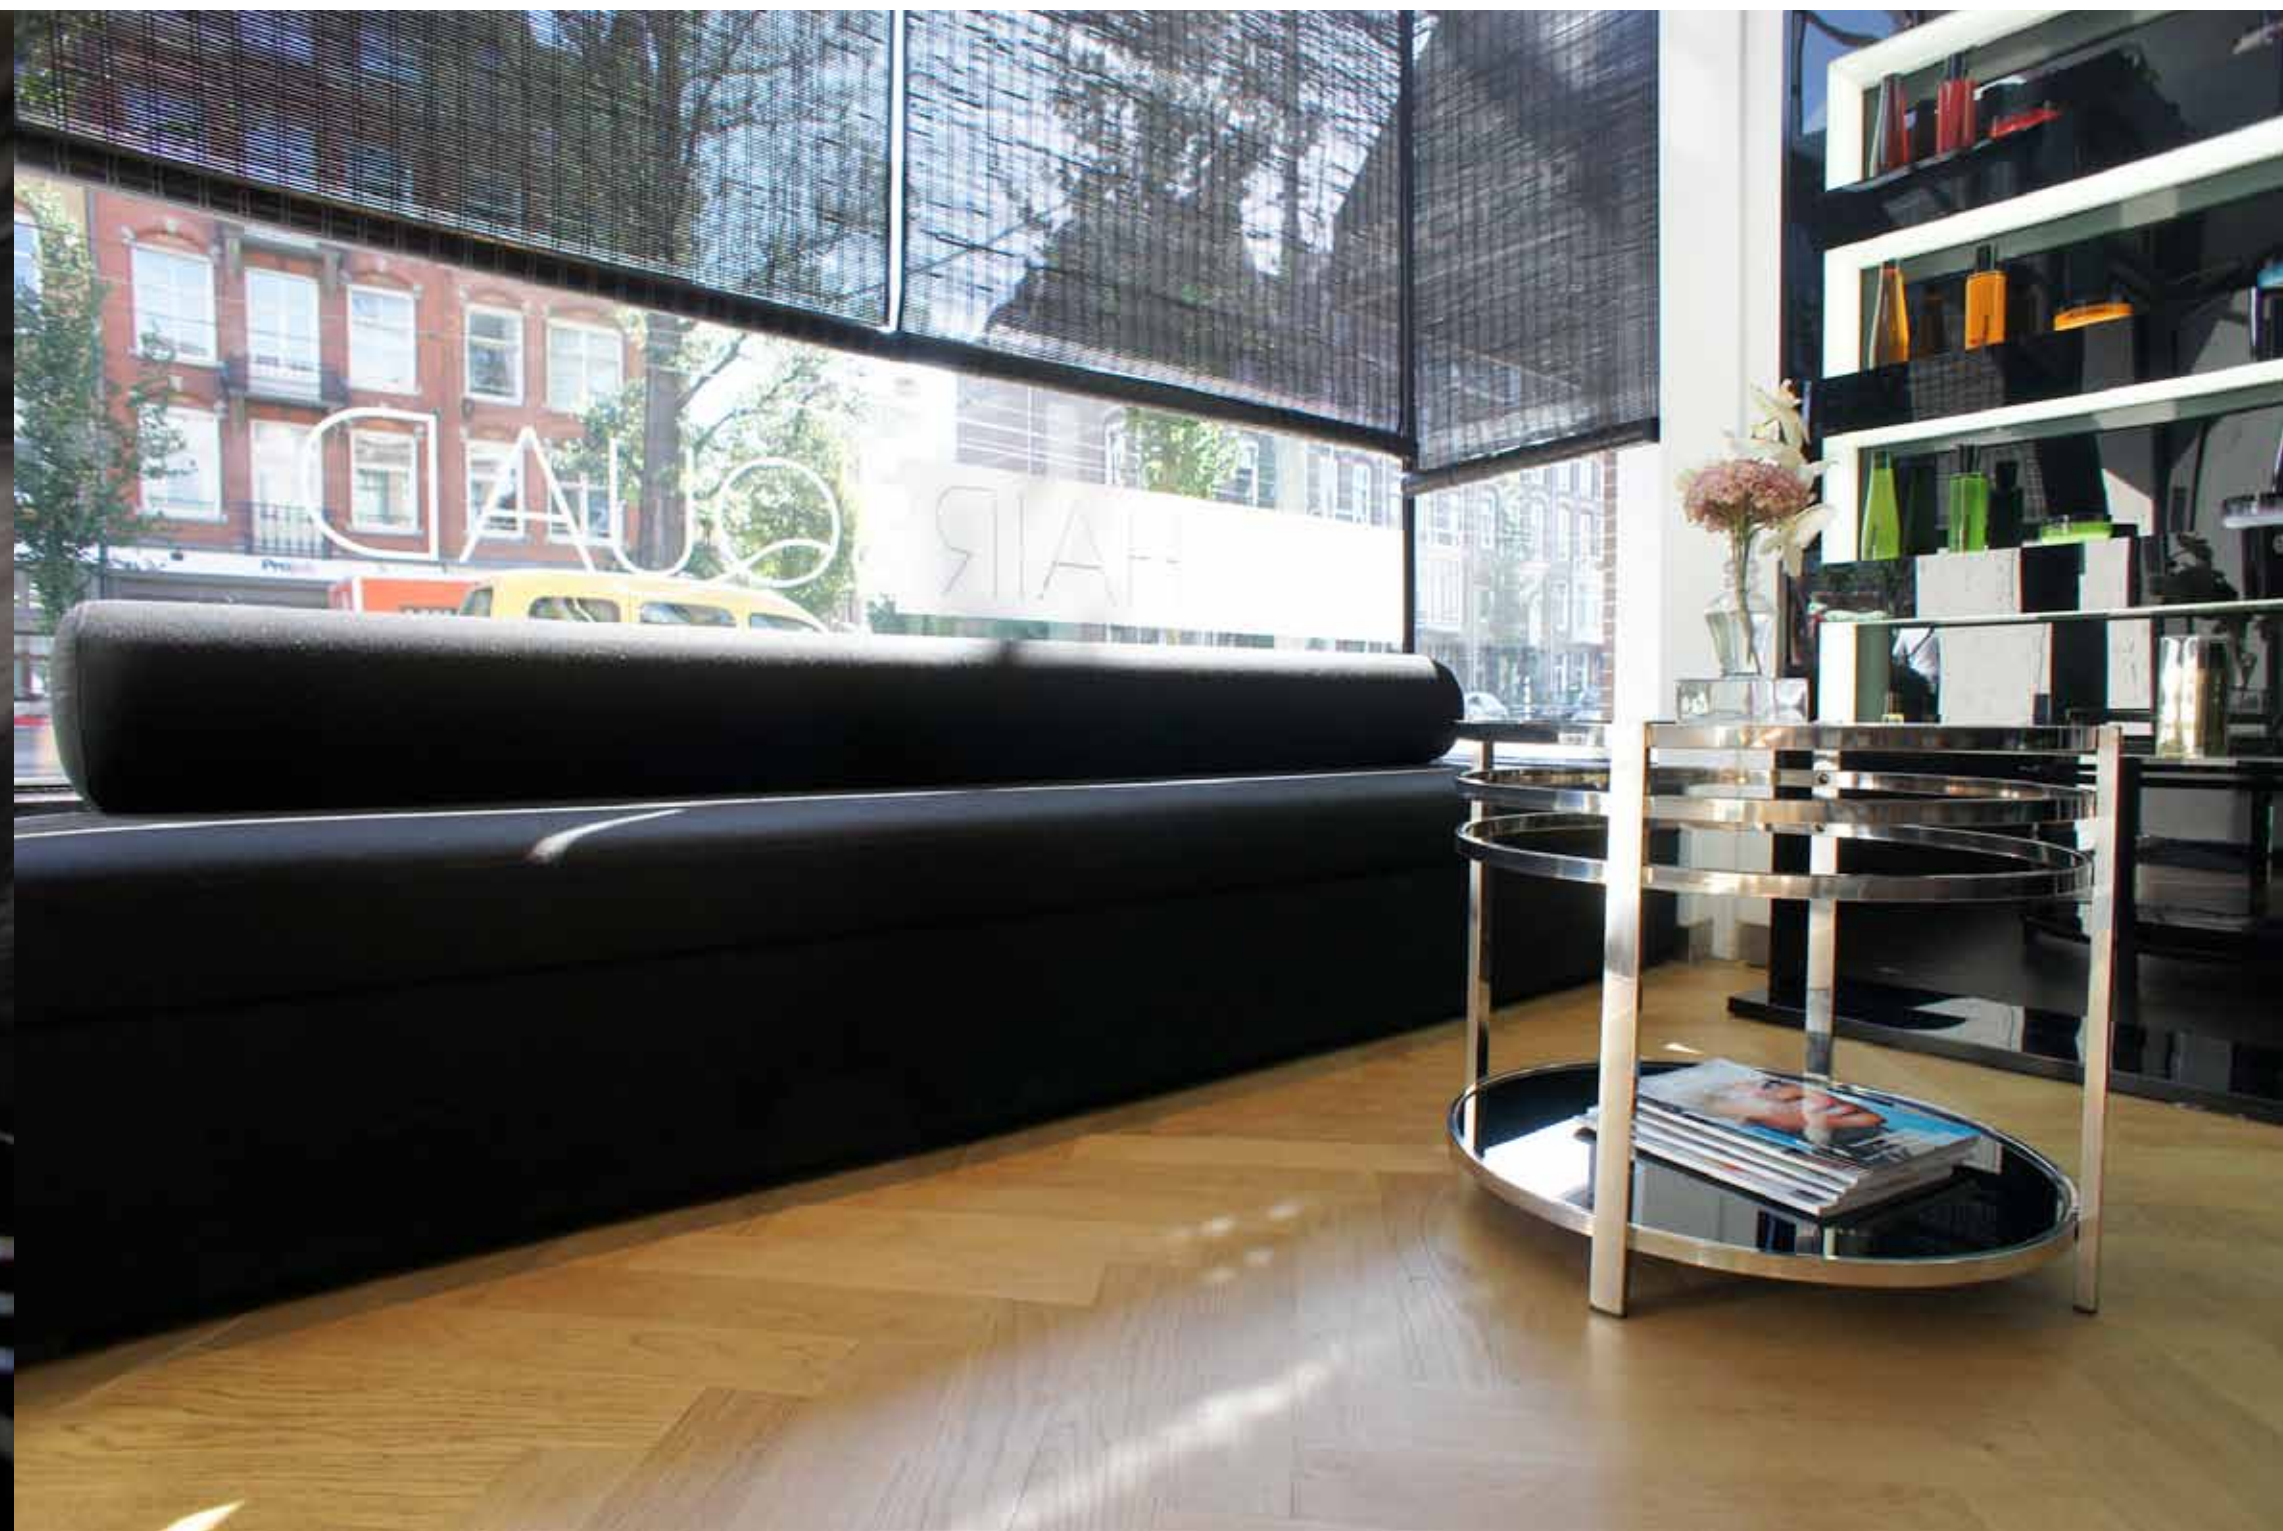

Coco Chanel became the inspiration of this hair salon in Amsterdam. Whether you are a traditional individual or a modern twenty-something, you will undoubtedly be swept of your feet inside this décor. See and be seen in this sophisticated space. Olga combined glistening, artificial material with natural elements such as timber, leather and marble. Elegant with a touch of glamour.

HAIRSQUAD
AMSTERDAM

After 25 years, this restaurant experienced a spectacular transformation with modern and exciting contrasts. Olga combined ton-sur-ton versus fuchsia pink elements, curved silhouettes versus structured shapes. A hint of the seventies amidst a relaxed setting to enjoy delicious international cuisine.

LA BROCHETTE AMSTERDAM

This beautiful mansion, just outside Amsterdam, is owned by a dynamic and well-travelled family. They were looking for a peaceful environment around their home but wanted to be challenged with inspiration at the same time. Olga combined a personal pallet of rich materials together with unique treasures. The courtyard, designed by Olga as well, is unique with its peaceful, serene feel.

AMSTERDAM PRIVATE RESIDENCE

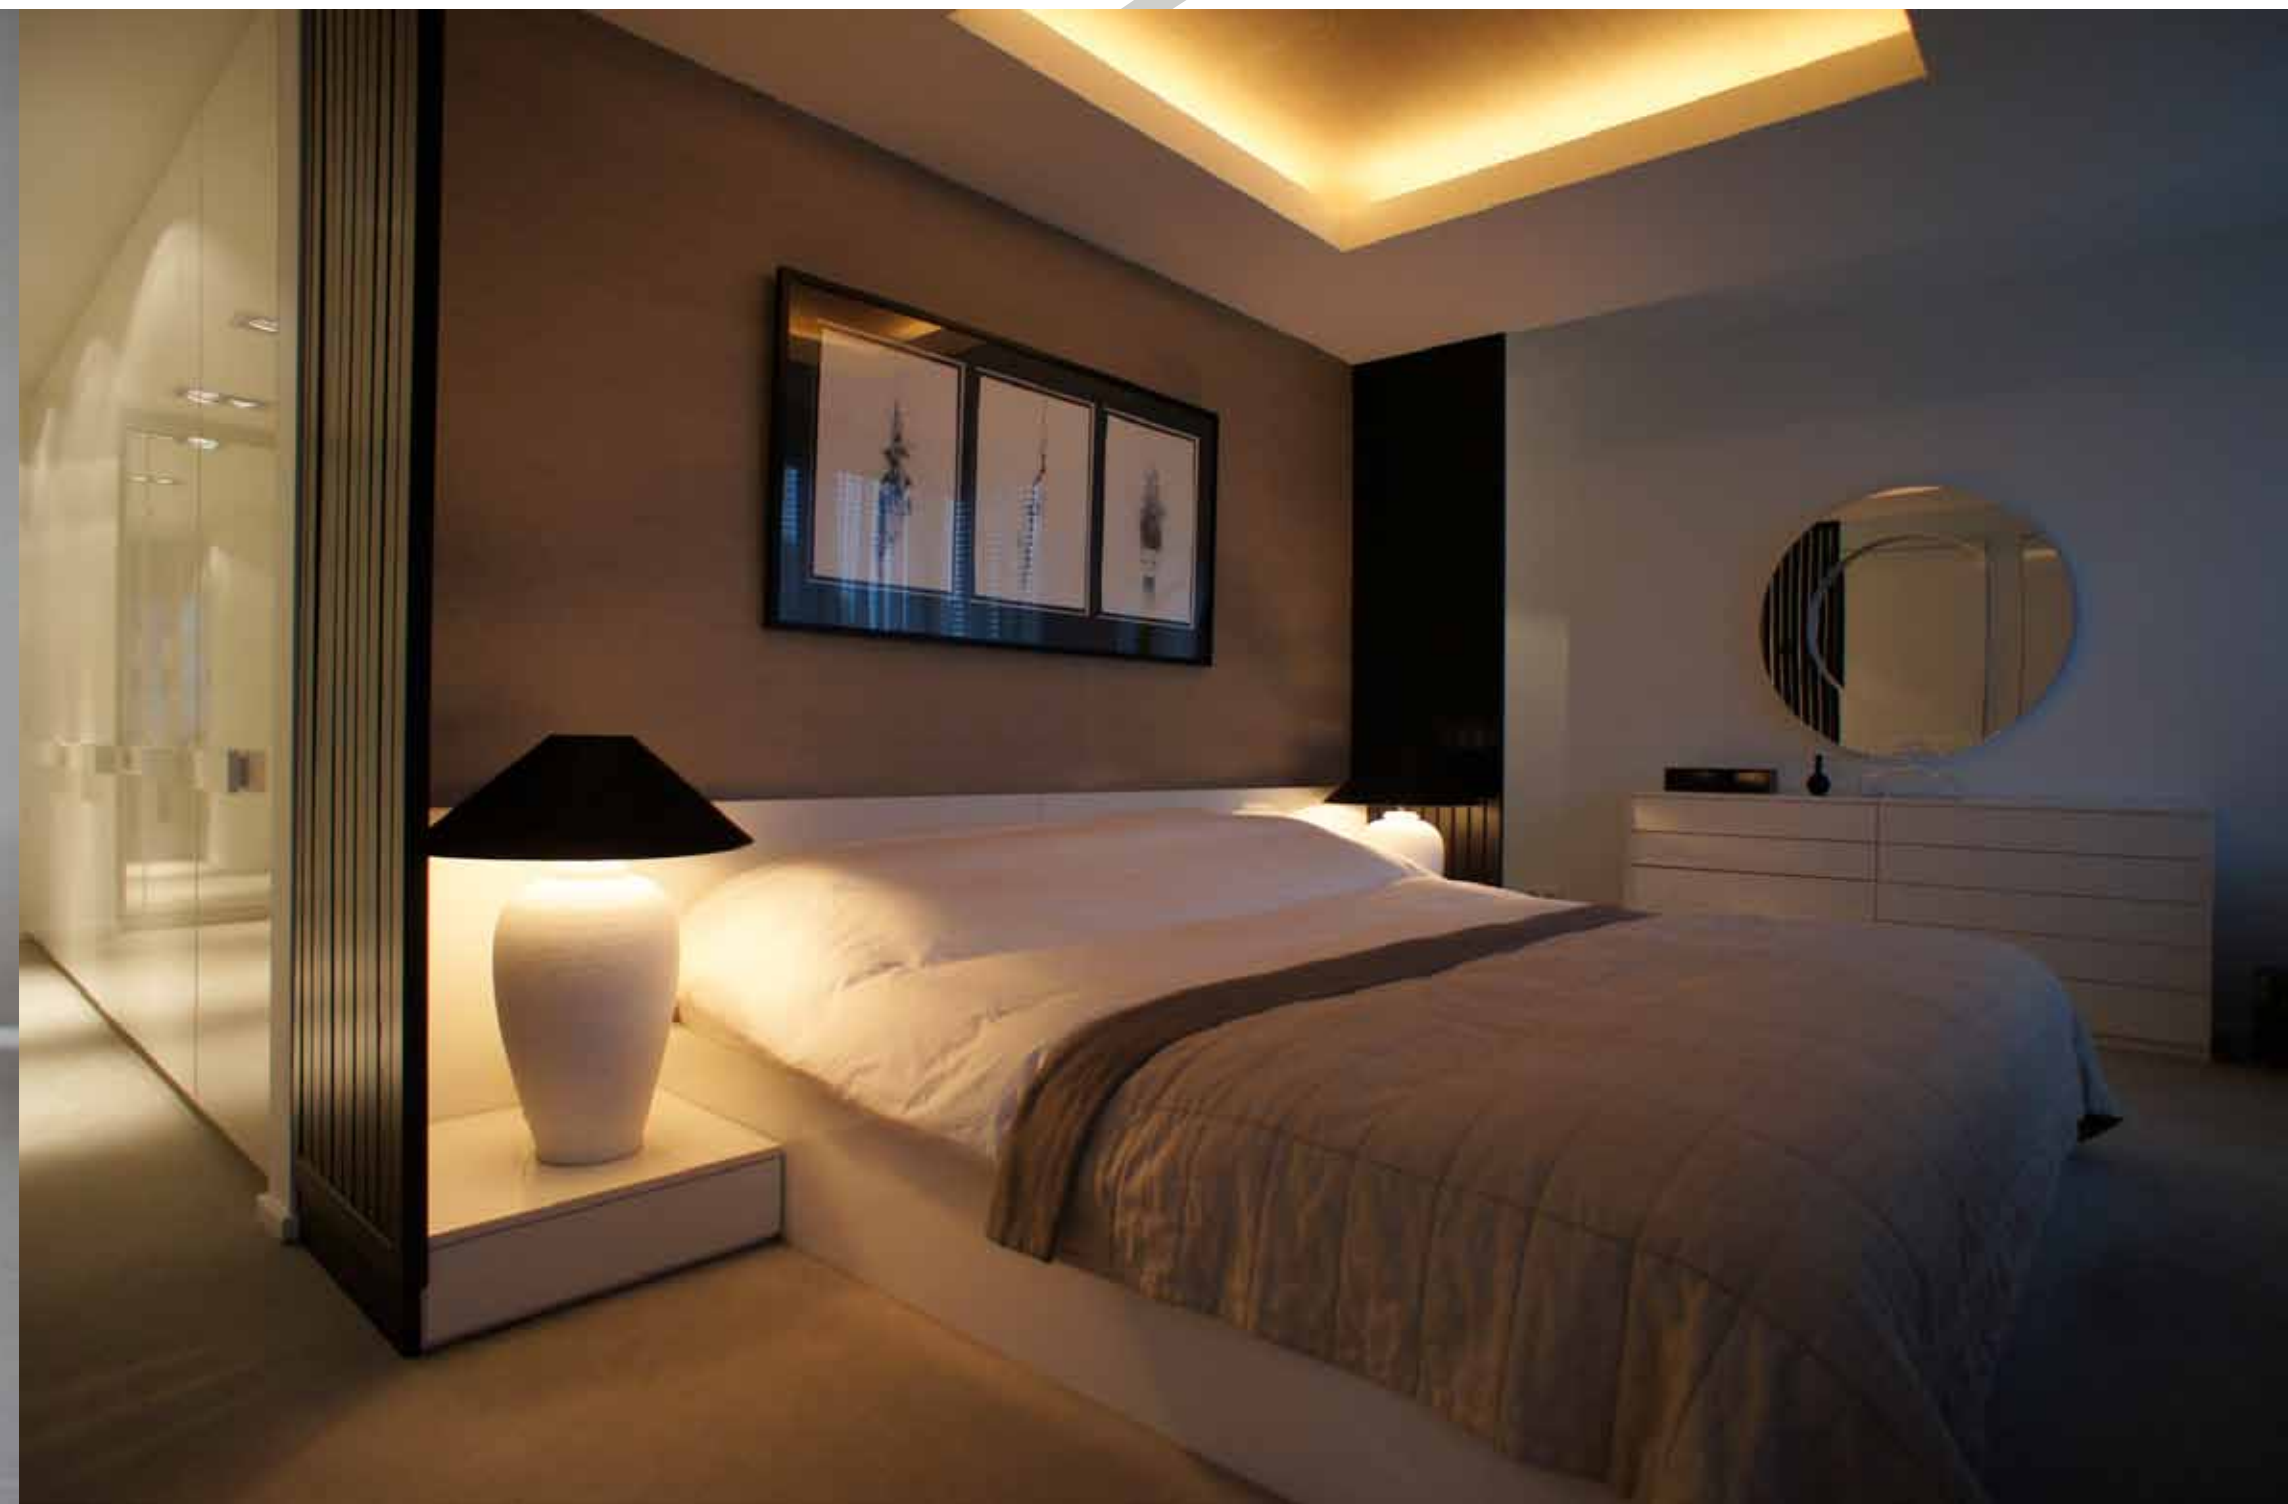

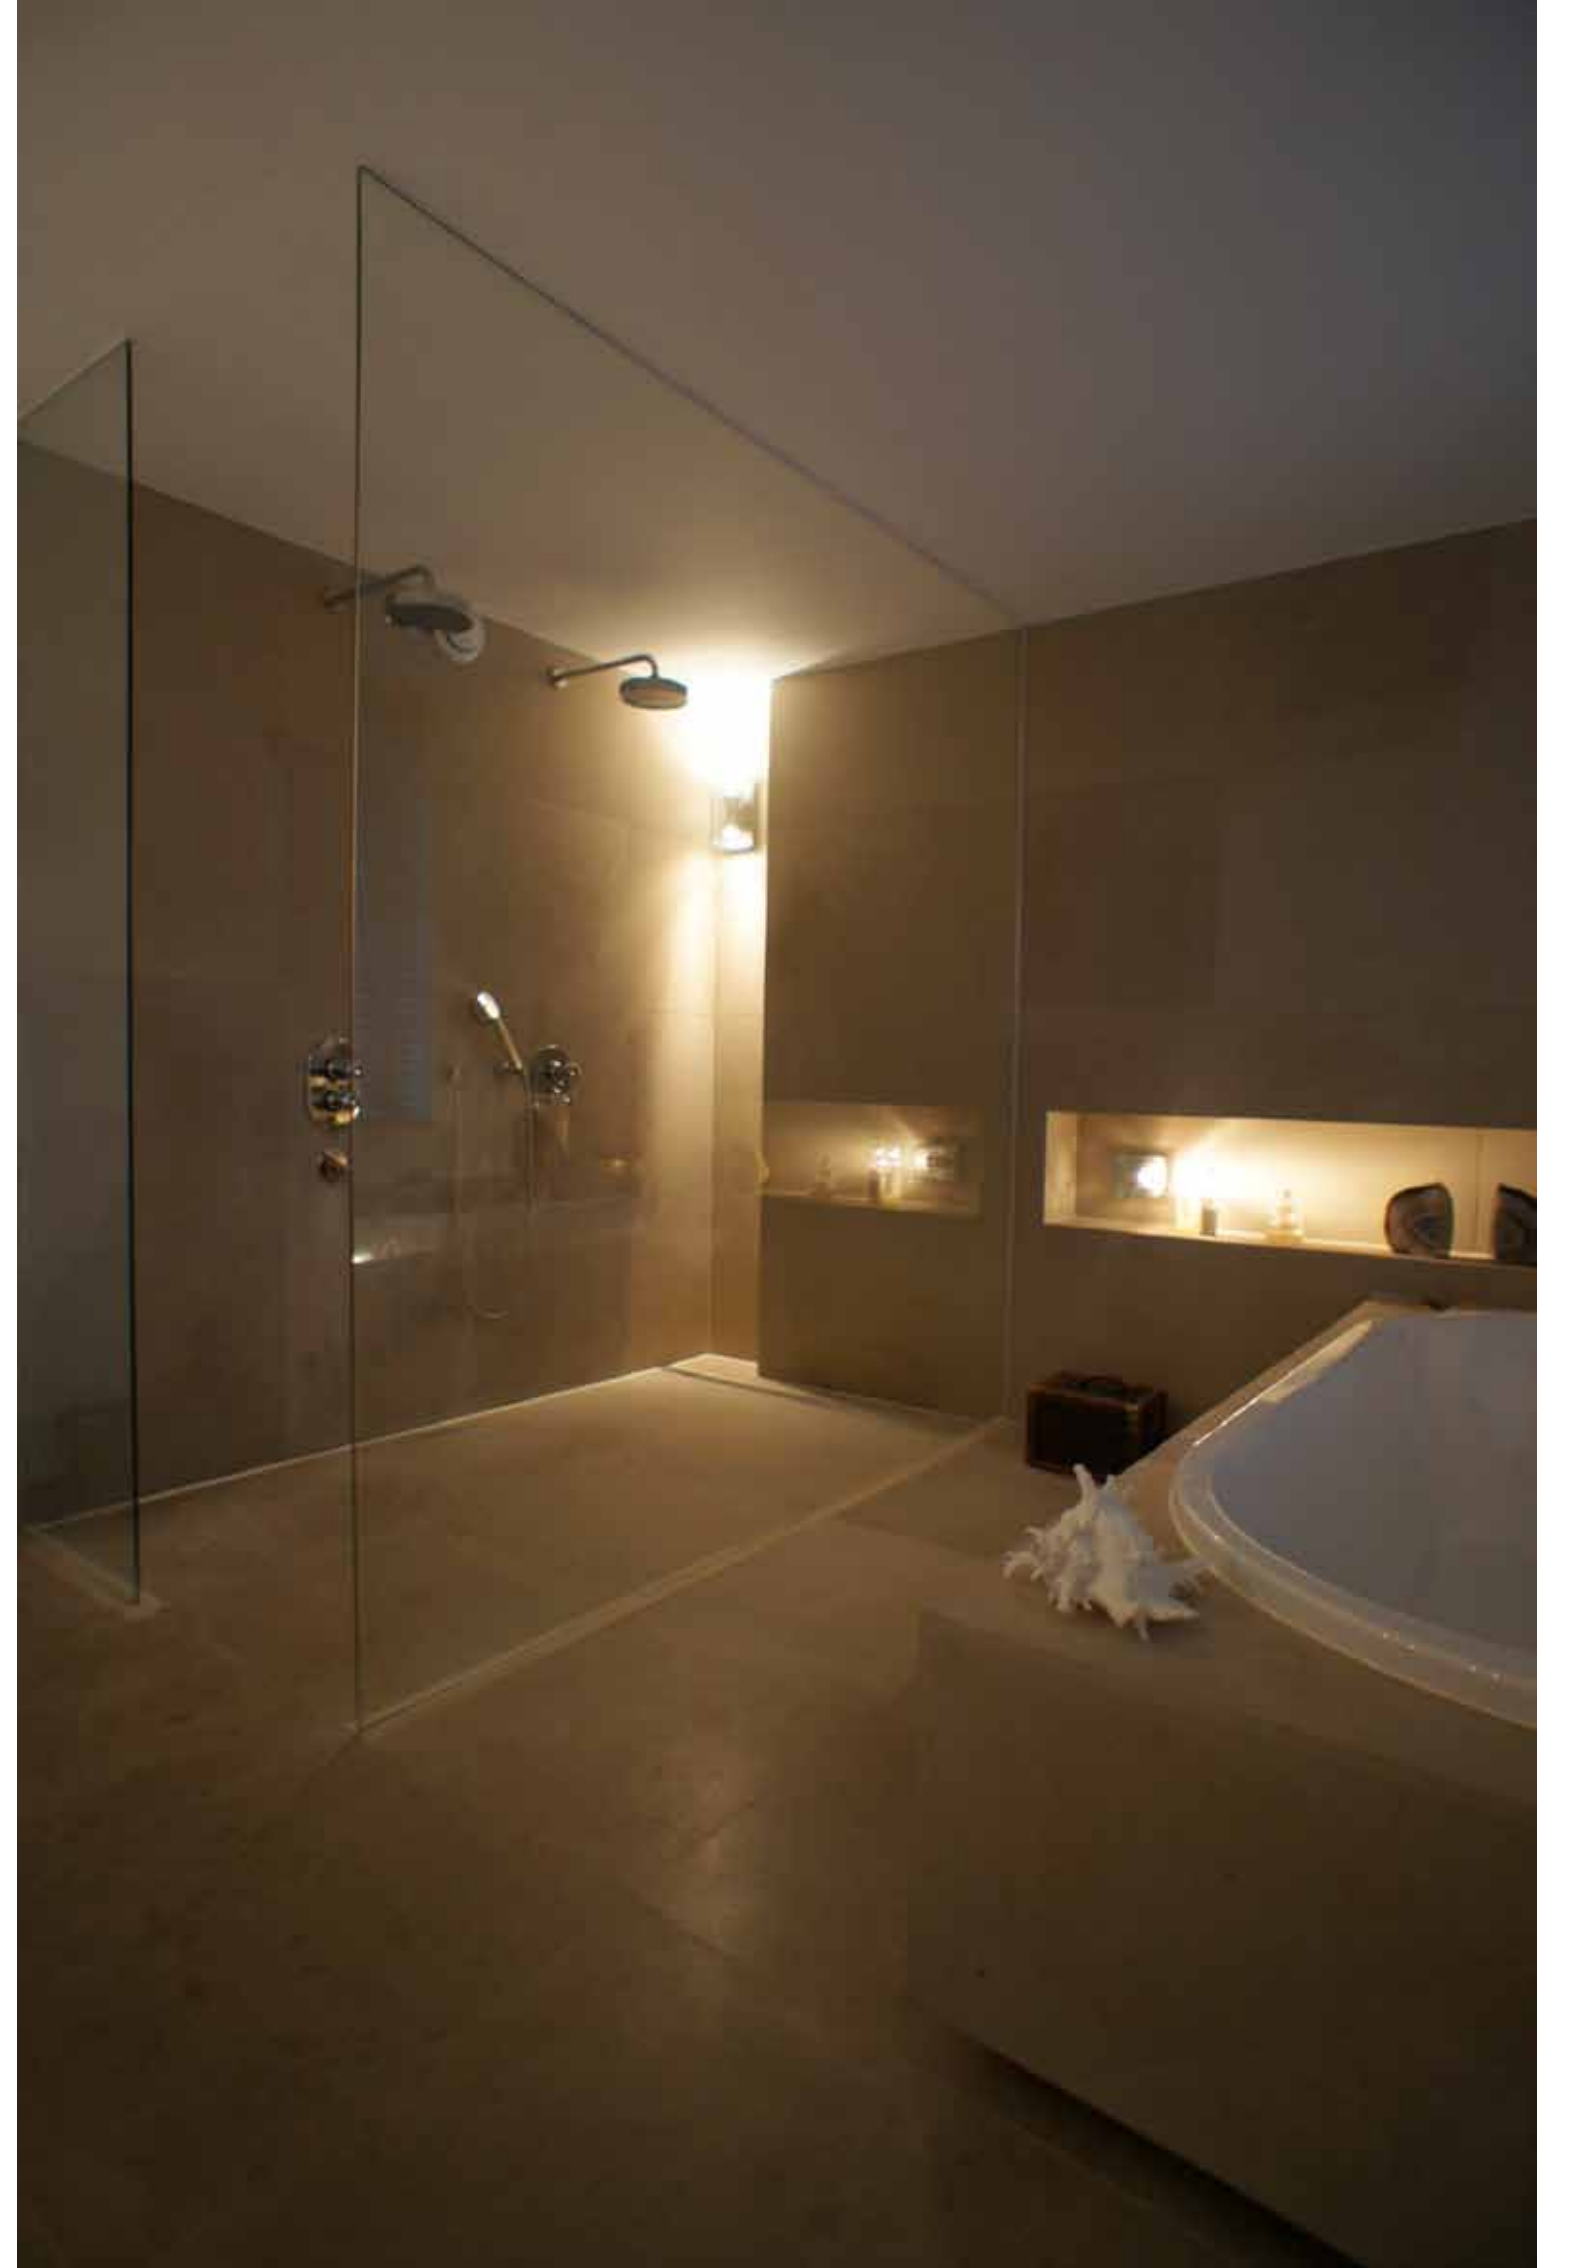

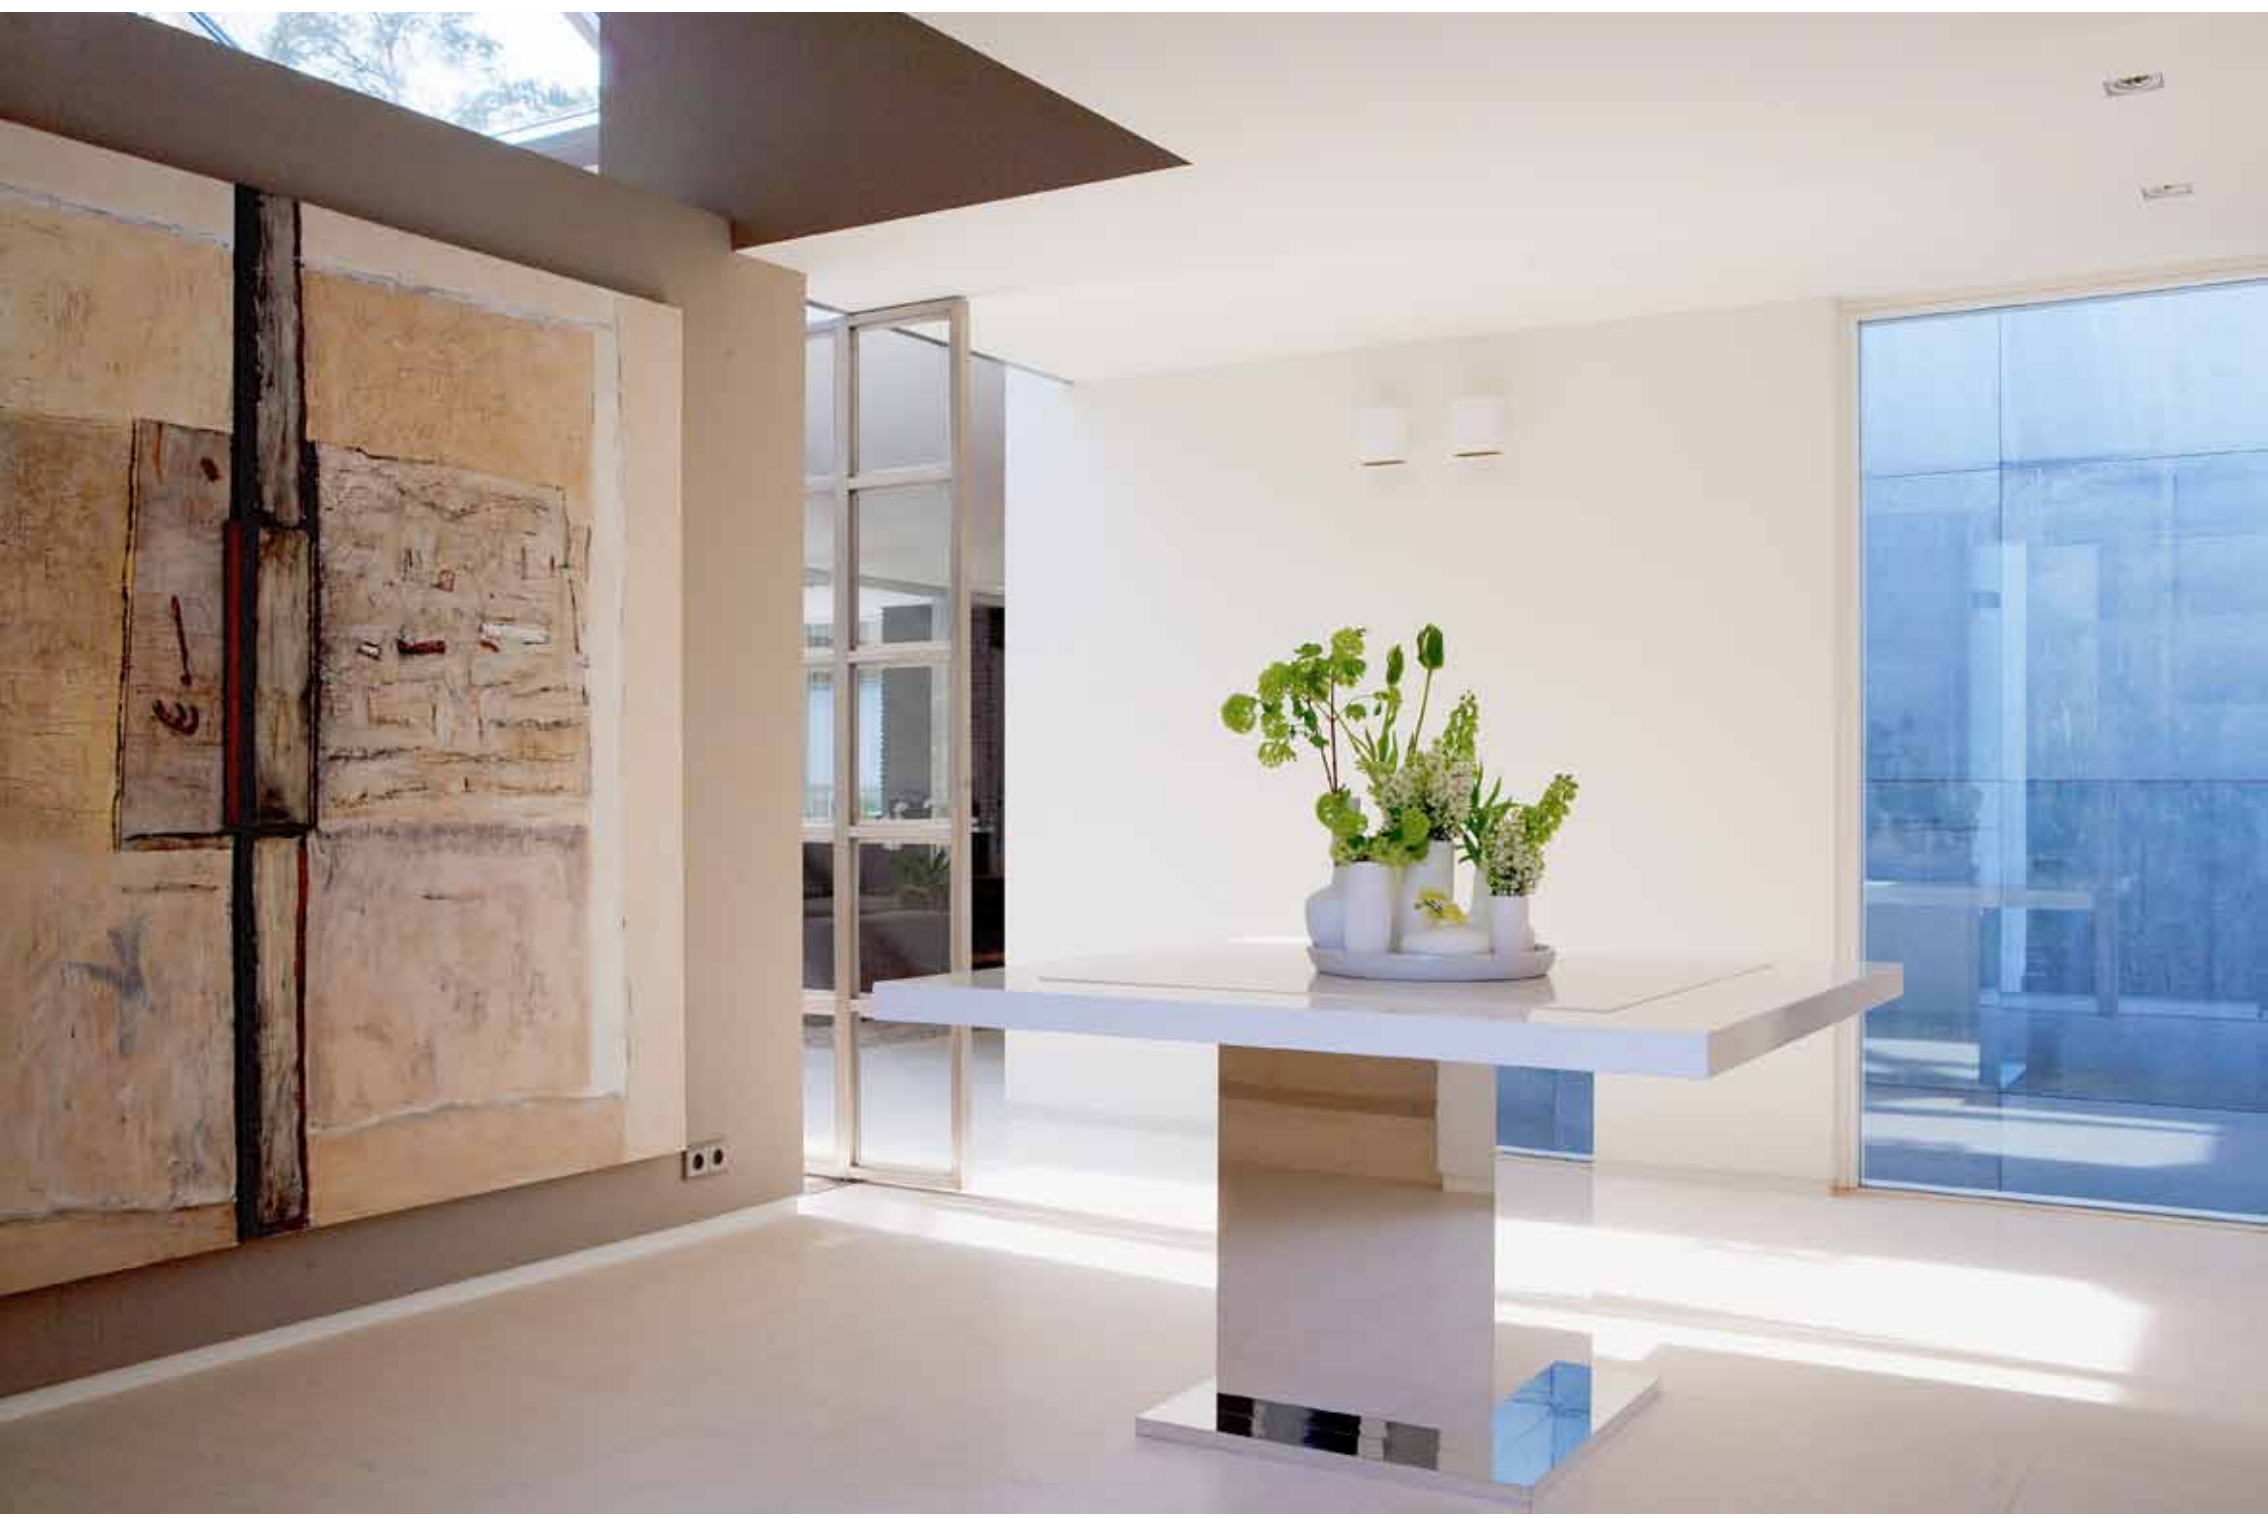

This young family desired an eclectic home. Olga used their personal collection of artifacts assembled during their travels as the backdrop of the meticulous style of the villa. Then, she added bright surfaces; comfortable soft fabrics and curved contours of her own label O Mooves. The result was a beautiful personalized interior very much in line with the family's story.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE

The loft, occupied by a young couple, was set up with an eclectic interior inspired by the urban setting of the location. Olga combined their personal belongings including their 200-year-old historic Indian relic, with O Mooves' exclusive private label furniture. A touch of gold gives the space an elegant, worldly spark.

RESIDENCE SPAIN

Breathtaking home overlooking the ocean. This was the foundation of the interior vision of this residence. Inspired by the azure waters and flawless blue skies, which surround the area. Wherever possible, Olga created a connection with the adjoining outdoor areas, to give the owners every opportunity to fully appreciate their environment.
